An autonomous institute situated within the research-intensive NTU, NIE is consistently ranked within the top 15 in the world for research impact in the field of Education.

The Physical Education and Sports Science (PESS) Academic Group at the National Institute of Education in Singapore offers programmes in teacher education specialising in physical education (PE) and the Sport Science & Management (SSM) undergraduate programme that provides academic and professional pathways to sport-related careers. PESS's postgraduate (Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy) programmes also provide PE teachers and sport practitioners opportunities to upgrade their professional knowledge. PESS prides itself on its international faculty with diverse and wide-ranging expertise. We are committed to educating our students to be independent, critical and creative thinkers and well-prepared practitioners in physical education, sport science, sport studies, sport management, and sport pedagogy. We provide up-to-date theoretical and practical knowledge and aim to inspire, lead, and motivate our future youth. Faculty members have access to state-of-the-art sports science laboratories and fully-equipped sports facilities.

We invite suitably qualified applicants to apply for Lecturer faculty position in gymnastics and dance.

Requirements The successful candidate should satisfy the following criteria:

1. A Master or PhD degree in physical education or related areas
2. Teaching or coaching experience in gymnastics and dance, particularly in school settings
3. Teaching experience at tertiary level is an advantage
4. Evidence of a good record in teaching courses in the related fields

The successful applicant is expected to be engaged in teaching academic and practical courses, supervision of teaching practicum and student projects, some associated research, and some administrative work.
