Professors, Associate Professors and Assistant Professors for faculty positions in the area of Inclusive Education beginning in January / August, 2023.

Essential Qualifications, Skills and Experience

- PhD in an appropriate discipline from an accredited and recognized international university (ABD at time of application will be considered, but Ph.D. must be in hand at the time of appointment, and current Ph.D. holders will be given priority);
- A demonstrated record of research and publications appropriate to rank;
- Teaching experience at the university level (experience in postgraduate programs will be given a priority);
- Experience in developing new courses and program curricula;
- Experience and readiness to supervise Master's and Ph.D. student thesis research
- Excellent intercultural communication and collaboration skills;
- Commitment to maintaining a collegial and inclusive work environment;
- Commitment to making a difference through education in the School, University and wider society.

Responsibilities include teaching, research, and school service. The University offers opportunities for research support. All positions are for a three-year term with the possibility of renewal.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach postgraduate courses in our M.Sc. in Educational Leadership program (one of 4 specializations: Inclusive Education; Multilingual Education; Higher Education; and School Education), our M.A. in Multilingual Education program, and/or our PhD in Education program. We are planning to offer a new Education Doctorate program from 2023, and we will prioritize applicants who have experience directing and teaching at the doctoral level.

Application Procedure

Applicants should send a cover letter (indicate rank and program area applied for), CV, names and contact information of three referees, and two samples of published work through this link:

<https://smrtr.io/bLt6y>

Completed applications should be received by October 30, 2022, but a review of applications may begin before this. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis.

If you have previously applied for the position with GSE in summer 2022, please do not reapply.
