incorporation of innovative technological interventions, to further enhance students' skills and help develop talented graduates that can effectively contribute to a knowledge-based economy and make Qatar's National Vision 2030 a reality.

The College of General Education invites applications for faculty positions in English Communications and Experiential Learning faculty at Senior Lecturer and Lecturer ranks.

The College of General Education provides a range of core courses common to all students of the University, in subject areas that support the academic structure of the undergraduate programs. The General Education Curriculum is designed around courses in mathematics, natural sciences, research methods, English communication, social sciences, humanities and the arts, aimed at developing students' understanding of fundamental scientific concepts and their applications.

Your Commitment

Reporting to the Department Head, you will plan and deliver first-year courses in Communications, Effective Learning, or Applied and Experiential Learning to students enrolled in a variety of University programs. You will evaluate student progress and manage the resources of the learning environment. In the framework of cross-school collaboration initiatives, you will participate in industry advisory committees and coordinate, manage and control projects within the specified program area. You will keep course portfolio documents required for program review and accreditation processes and engage in instructional development as well as new program development. The College encourages applications from research-active faculty who will also contribute to the enhancement of applied research and innovation.

Education and Experience Requirements

Faculty members will be placed in the appropriate rank based on their education and experience. The
