As a next-generation public research institution, we are an inclusive community of thinkers, doers, creators, innovators, healers, and leaders striving to shape the future and solve the world's most challenging problems. No matter what your role is, when you join Knight Nation, you become an integral part of our mission to become a university for the future. You'll be met with opportunities to connect and collaborate with uniquely talented faculty, staff, and students across 13 colleges and multiple campuses and regional locations. That means greater challenges to tackle, more meaningful opportunities to grow, and rewarding experiences that go beyond a paycheck.

The Opportunity

The Department of Counselor Education and School Psychology in the College of Community Innovation and Education (CCIE) invites applications for a full-time, 9-month, tenure-earning, assistant professor position in the Counselor Education program, anticipated to begin fall 2024. This position is located on the Orlando campus and summer teaching may be available.

The selected candidate will contribute to the Counselor Education program's mission by teaching a variety of graduate level counseling courses, engaging in research, seeking extramural funding, advising students, and supervising practicum and internship students. This position also includes some operational involvement with the Community Counseling Research Center.

The ideal candidate will be a dynamic individual with strong teaching, research, supervision, and interpersonal skills.

The Counselor Education program has been ranked among top-level Counselor Education programs in the country by U.S. News & World Report since 2007. The Counselor Education program offers the following degrees: master's degrees in Clinical Mental Health Counseling (M.A.), Marriage, Couple, and Family Therapy (M.A.), and School Counseling (M.A., M.Ed.); Educational Specialist Degree in School Counseling (Ed.S.); and a doctoral degree (Ph.D.) in Education—Counselor Education and Supervision. Additionally, the program offers certificates in Play Therapy and Career Counseling. The Clinical Mental Health Counseling (M.A.); Marriage, Couple, and Family Therapy (M.A.); School Counseling (M.A., M.Ed.); and Counselor Education and Supervision (Ph.D.) programs are accredited by CACREP. For additional Counselor Education Program information, visit <https://ccie.ucf.edu/cesp/counselored/>.

CCIE is a one-of-a-kind academic unit with distinct, interdisciplinary expertise and potential for partnership with community stakeholders, conceived to address societal challenges and work alongside the community. Established in 2018, the college offers undergraduate and graduate programs on the main campus and UCF Downtown. At the heart of the college's mission is the institutional commitment to transform lives and strengthen society by developing a unified vision and innovative solutions to complex social issues. CCIE promotes innovation through state-of-the-art interdisciplinary research with social impact, contemporary teaching and learning practices, and preeminent service for the disciplines, the institution, and the community.

Minimum Qualifications:

By time of appointment, candidates must hold a doctorate in Counselor Education from an accredited institution.

Candidates must also have:

- A specialization in one or more areas appropriate to the program's degree offerings.
- Be eligible for licensure or certification as a Mental Health Counselor, Marriage and Family Therapist, or School Counselor in the State of Florida.
- Have experience in graduate-level teaching and supervision.
- Have experience conducting research and publishing their research findings.

Preferred Qualifications:

- An earned doctorate from a CACREP-accredited doctoral program and/or meet core-faculty criteria as defined by CACREP.
- Demonstrable research impact as reflected in high-quality, refereed publications in professional journals.
- Demonstrable potential to develop a well-funded research program.
