- Participating in departmental, college and university service, as well as contributing to disciplinary professional communities.

The successful candidate will primarily teach courses in their areas of expertise, but may be called on to teach courses that satisfy the university's general education requirements as needed. We are particularly interested in hearing from candidates who specialize in the teaching of literature, the teaching of readers, young adult literature and/or critical media literacy. Moreover, we welcome applications from all qualified candidates with a commitment to justice-oriented approaches to English education.
