Qualifications include an earned Ph.D. degree in Educational Psychology or related field. Successful applicants will provide a record of inclusive teaching practices and high-quality teaching at the graduate level.

Responsibilities include the delivery of high-quality experiential learning and teaching to graduate students, the pursuit of a vigorous research program, and service and outreach to the college, university, and profession. The initial distribution of effort (DOE) will be 75% teaching (approximately 3 courses each semester), 10% research, and 15% service.

Clinical faculty members in the Department of Educational, School, and Counseling Psychology are highly valued, significantly contribute to clinical training and experiential learning within the program, and serve in important leadership roles within the department. Opportunities for promotion without tenure are available for full-time clinical faculty members. Additional responsibilities may include participating in curriculum assessment and development, contributing to program administration, and providing service to community and professional organizations.

Please note that, to be considered an applicant, an application must be submitted via the UK Jobs site. Interested applicants should include, along with the online application form:

- a letter of application detailing qualifications (upload under Cover Letter),
- current curriculum vita (upload under Curriculum Vita),
- a statement of research and one sample of scholarly, professional writing (upload under Specific Request 1),
- a teaching philosophy statement and evaluations of any college teaching (upload under Specific Request 2), and
- names and contact information for three current references familiar with the applicant's work (upload under Specific Request 3).

Questions regarding the position may be directed to Dr. Kenneth Tyler, Search Committee Chair, (Kenneth.Tyler@uky.edu).

Review of applications begins April 10, 2024 and continues until the position is filled.
