Job Description

About Rocky Mountain Prep

Rocky Mountain Prep is a growing network of innovative public charter schools serving pre-kindergarten through 12th-grade students in the Greater Denver Area. Rocky Mountain Prep (RMP) opened its first school in 2012 with 130 students and has grown to four schools, working with over 1,800 scholars across two districts. Grounded in our culture of rigor and love, our schools consistently outperform local districts academically while ensuring our scholars develop in our PEAK values of perseverance, excellence, adventure, and kindness. In the school year 2023-2024, we will grow to 12 schools serving over 5,000 students in grades PK-12th.

Who We Seek:

We seek teachers and staff who are interested in developing students into outstanding human beings in their academic and personal lives by role-modeling our culture of Rigor and Love. Work collaboratively with their teammates and seek feedback, coaching, and mentorship from their admin team and school community. Implement our data-driven curriculum with the tools they've gained from experience while they adapt to the needs of their students.

If you are mission-driven, humble in your reflections about your practice, smart in your approach to data, and results-oriented, we'd love to have you apply.

During the 2023-2024 school year, RMP is driving after five big goals:

1. Going Green on the Colorado School Performance Framework
2. 90% Student Persistence
3. 95% Average Daily Attendance
4. Fully Enrolled by October Count
5. Academics:
 1. PreK Students demonstrate one year of growth
 2. Kinder through 2nd Grade Students grow 1.25 years in ELA and Math
 3. 40% of 3rd through 5th-grade students meet their Millionaire Goal (one million words read)
 4. 40% of 6th through 8th grade students meet their millionaire goal (two million words read)
 5. High school: 100% College Acceptance

Each member of the organization plays a part in achieving these goals. School-based staff members will work towards 2 or 3 metrics that are aligned to both their individual roles AND the Big 5. These metrics vary by position and are subject to change.

In this role, you will:

- Articulate a clear, rigorous instructional vision with a school-wide focus on teaching and learning that is evidence-based, data-driven, standards-aligned, and rooted in a belief that all students can achieve at high levels;
- Model continuous learning and a growth mindset as demonstrated in an openness to feedback and a willingness to improve their own practice as leaders;
- Provide timely feedback, effective coaching, and quality professional development to administrators, teachers, and staff in order to improve the quality of instruction and student achievement levels throughout the school;
- Develop and maintain a loving school culture for children and adults that fosters a safe, equitable, and inclusive environment conducive to everyone's success;

- Inspire students, faculty, staff, and other partners to follow the school's vision and their actions as a leader;
- Build strong relationships with, listen to, and communicate effectively with all school stakeholders;
- Serve as the “Educator-in-Chief” on campus, modeling lessons and instructional strategies as needed and providing specific examples to teachers to improve their teaching practices;
- See parents as partners, develop and mobilize resources for active parent community involvement;
- Take ultimate responsibility for the successes and areas of growth for the campus’s academic results, student culture, and staff culture as the leader of the school.
- Set appropriate goals while also anticipating challenges and organizing people and resources as needed to keep the school on track.

Qualifications

To fulfill these responsibilities, the ideal Principal candidate will be:

- Have a record of achieving measurable scholar achievement goals through coaching and leading others
- Be committed to Rocky Mountain Prep's vision and mission and achieving the Big Five as well as campus-based goals for raising the achievement of multilingual learners and scholars with exceptional needs
- Embrace a spirit of anti-fragility and look for opportunities to improve, innovate, and relentlessly pursue excellence
- Be able to manage your own time and tasks in a way that aligns with maximizing scholar achievement and operational goals
- Believe that leaders make the weather in the building and demonstrate the emotional constancy necessary to lead in a goal-oriented organization
- Be able to observe, diagnose, prescribe, and coach teachers and leaders to ensure they grow and achieve their goals
- Build a strong culture where scholars can learn, grow, and thrive through predictable routines, structures, and proactive practices
- Cultivate a strong, healthy working environment for adults that is focused on kids first
