ESSENTIAL DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Conduct psychological assessments to identify individual needs and provide appropriate support plans.
 - Provide individual and group counselling sessions to students and individuals with disabilities, addressing issues related to mental health, emotional well-being, academic stress, and personal development.
 - Develop and implement tailored psychological interventions and support plans for students with varying levels of abilities.
 - Use evidence-based therapeutic approaches such as Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), psychotherapy, and mindfulness-based stress reduction techniques to assist students.
 - Monitor and evaluate the progress of students, adjusting therapeutic strategies as needed.
 - Collaborate with other departments, academic staff, and external specialists to ensure comprehensive care and support.
 - Promote a culture of inclusivity and well-being across the university, ensuring that psychological services are accessible to all students, especially those with disabilities.
 - Advise on mental health accommodations and support for students with disabilities.
- Facilitate workshops, seminars, and support groups to raise awareness about mental health issues, coping strategies, and self-care.
 - Work closely with faculty, academic advisors, and student services to ensure holistic support for students.
 - Collaborate with external mental health professionals, including psychiatrists and social workers, when needed.
 - Maintain open communication with students' families, respecting confidentiality and ensuring appropriate support.
