Visiting Assistant Professor, Science Education (Two-Year Appointment).

Auburn University Department of Curriculum and Teaching is hiring for a nine-month, visiting assistant professor position to begin August 2025. The faculty member will be hired on a two-year, fixed appointment to support the Secondary Science Education and the AUTEACH programs. Successful applicants will teach classes to undergraduate and graduate students in these programs. They will also be expected to pursue a rigorous research agenda associated with science education learning and teaching. The university's commitment to "grounded and groundbreaking" teaching, research, and outreach is outlined in the Auburn University Strategic Plan (<https://auburn.edu/administration/president/strategic-plan/>). Review of applications will begin May 15, 2025 and it continue until the position is filled. The search committee may review complete applications received after May 15th until the position is filled. For additional inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Melody Russell (russeml@auburn.edu).

The Department of Curriculum and Teaching is housed in the College of Education. The department offers a range of bachelor's, master's, specialist, and doctoral degrees for individuals seeking employment in teaching professions.

DUTIES/RESPONSIBILITIES

- Engage in rigorous research resulting in scholarly publications, preferably peer-reviewed journal articles in prestigious outlets
- Teach undergraduate-, master's-, and doctoral-level courses in support of the Science Education and AUTEACH programs
- Supervise student teaching interns in the Science Education and AUTEACH program
- Secure extramural research funding as appropriate to disciplinary focus
- Advise and mentor graduate students
- Direct student research including projects, theses, and dissertations
- Participate in the planning and implementation of curricular changes for the program and department
- Participate in professional activities as needed to ensure the well-being of the program, department, and college
